THEME

WASHINGTON, ALMA MATER

The band blares out and six hundred voices join in their alma mater's song. With all their fervor they sing the thrilling words through. Then the tempo slows and more reverently the chorus is uttered. A thousand and one thoughts go through the mind as the familiar words are repeated.

Football games . . . . . Junior-Senior's . . . . . term papers . . . . . the Senior Play . . . . . Snoopin Round . . . . . pep rallies . . . . . Hi-Y initiations . . . . . basketball trips . . . . . concoctions in the chemistry lab . . . . . fights on the Senior steps . . . . . and long awaited commencement. Memorable events of wonderful years—Recollections to be cherished—All brought to mind by the symbol of high school days—the school song.

DEDICATION

To Mr. J. T. Kornegay, whose genuine interest in every student, ready acceptance and capable execution of the duties of a principal, and ever friendly manner, have quickly made a place for him in the hearts of Washington High School students, this 1947 volume of the Packromak is sincerely dedicated.

CLASS POEM

A TOAST

Here's to the class of forty-seven,
May you always remain the best,
You've been called upon to do hard things,
And always answered "Yes."

You've had good times and been good sports,
What more could anyone ask;
Than to model their lives after you,
Whose greatness shall forever last.

Yes, O Class of forty-seven,
Our town is proud of you;
And from the four corners of the world,
Your names shall echo thru.

CLASS PROPHECY

June, 195(

Dear Tado:

Sorry you couldn't be in Washington the other day, so I will tell you all about the laying of the new school's cornerstone. The school has great promise of being completed by 1959. Who else but our old friend, Mayor James McKeel, was in charge of the ceremony. The guest speaker was our Senator, who married Isabel Carter, outstanding novelist of our day. The cornerstone itself was a masterpiece of construction, having been built by the George Taylor Cement Construction Company. Looking over Superintendent John B. Edward's shoulder, I saw, written on the blue prints, that the school was designed by Charles Moore and Dewey Taylor. Representing the Ladies' Saturday Sewing Circle were Evelyn Campbell, Mildred Wallace, Marion Jackson, Gladys Waters and Nancy Tripp. Jane Hawk was there with her husband, who was a prominent member of the Class of '48. I went over to talk to them for a while and found out that our good friend Richard Robertson is now the cashier at the Bank of Washington. Jane said that the Washington representatives to the State Chamber of Commerce Convention, Robert Rogers, Billy Hampton, Don Evans, Jehu Nichols and Claud Rouse, returned just in time to attend this memorial occasion. She also told me that Tommie Jean Greene and Charlotte Stanley, successful New York models, were visiting her for the event.

Then who should walk up but Tollie Morris who is in business with Marshall Leggett running Washington's newest, busiest, and best jewelry store. I learned from him that Sarah Jackson's and Frances Harris' dress shop nearly burned down but was saved by the Fire Department, which is headed by Bud Willis. He said that Anne Marslender stopped in the store the other day. You know she represents the National Jewelers Wholesale Company.

I bumped into the former Mary Anne Campbell who told me that her husband, Jimmy Larkin and his band, were playing that night at the Night Spot. You know this used to be Web's but Julian Trueblood bought it and now has a lovely night club, overlooking the river. Harold Williamson, Eddie Toler and Billy Austin are playing in Larkin's band and Emily Anne Rhodes is his vocalist. She told me that Joyce Currin and Penelope Bogart are running a kindergarten (as a sideline, for of course they are both married).

After the ceremony I went into a new cafe and to my surprise I found out that our old classmate, Bill Nelson, was the proprietor. I sat down to have a long talk with him and he showed me a sort of register that he had been keeping of all his classmates of '47. He opened this and glancing through, I saw that Louise Ricks, Idonia Singleton and Hazel Whitehurst were all teaching school here. Also, I noticed that Pocahontas Lanier and Irene Jackson were operating the successful new book and record shop. Amy Lee Diamond is Superintendent of Nurses at a hospital in New York City. Milfred Tetterton and Guy Stowe are operating that booming new laundry, "Goon and Guy's" which is the biggest thing to hit Washington in a long time. The "Ye Olde Sandwiche Shoppe" is run by Pearl Gerard and Genet Everette, and as would be expected, they have made a great success of it. I was about to read on when I heard an old familiar voice. On looking up, I saw Freddie Potts. Naturally, we got to talking and Freddie told me that he was coaching at our old Alma Mater and that Bill Gallaway rode in from the range every baseball season just to help him out. Potts said that he just saw Mr. and Mrs. Robin Perkins, Mrs. Perkins being the former Ray Rowe. Robin has been quite successful in the oil business out West and he and Rae are very happy.

After saying goodbye to Freddie, I walked out and across the street I saw the successful new show run by George Ball and Dennis Woolard. On the posters, I saw that Geraldine Woolard was being starred in the new Robinson and Morton production. These are our old friends Harold and John Fowle.

I started on off but had only walked a few feet when I saw a familiar face in the passing crowd. Naturally, I stopped to talk to my old friend Ramona Sawyer. She said that she was on the way to Ollie Ross' beauty shoppe. She was to attend Dot Wilson and Jack Sowers' wedding that night. She told me that Frances McNeil and Buddy Kennedy did get married the summer after graduation and have two darling little boys.

As time was running short, I bade Romona goodbye and went on to the Chicken-Sparrow Hotel, which is run by Ed Hodges and Paul Sparrow. Walking across the lobby, I bumped into Rochelle Moore who is the Champion Hog Caller in the county. He stopped to talk and he said that he had just been by the old school where they were having classes (you remember how they wouldn't let us out for anything?), and that Vermelle Hart, Lear Matkins, Sabrah Rough, Tillie Wallace, Betty Brown and Betty Cox were all teaching school there. He also informed me of the fact that Hope Hodges was now Professor of History and Biology at Meredith College. I stopped next door for a drink and who should be running the largest and newest drugstore in town but John Kirk and Duncan Moore. While I was standing at the fountain, who should walk in but Dr. Don Evans, who had brought a prescription down. I pulled Don over to the table and soon learned that James Hodges was also on the local hospital staff as were Dorothy Schueck, Edna Barnett, Meredith Woolard, Esther Respass and Marian Adams. He also said that he had just treated Jesse Dixon, who had the misfortune of spraining his ankle on the steps of his country estate.

Before I had gotten up, in came Mervin Cherry and his wife, the former Miss Betsy Campbell. They had just been shopping and informed me that Joyce Currier was manager of the second floor in Garland Hodges' and Hubert Waters' new Department Store.

As I left the drugstore and started out to take one more look at the town, who should I meet but Rena Boney, who is society editor of the local paper, of which Esther Campbell owns part interest. She said that Janie Jefferson was art editor of the paper and doing a fine job. She also said that some of the latest social events of the community involved our old classmates. Some of these were the marriages of Betty Adams, Velma Edwards and Mildred Hardison to prominent men of the town. She also said that the now famous Isabelle Perkins and Dot Roberson, co-writers of a current best seller novel, had just visited the City and while here had stayed at the fashionable Pamlico Inn, owned and operated by Shirley Williams.

Well, Tado, I guess that takes in about everything and as time is running short, I'd better be saying good bye. Please write and tell me all about your real estate business and your family.

Your old buddy,

Phelps

CLASS WILL

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA
COUNTY OF BEAUFORT

WE, THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1947, being in excellent mental condition after completing our high school education, do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament. On this 31st day of May, 1947, we do appoint Miss Pauline Tayloe, Mrs. Phoebe Emmons and Miss Myrtie Cooper, our class advisers, as executors of this sacred document.

ITEM I. To our rightful heirs, the Junior Class, we give, bequeath, and entrust to them the following parts of our estate:

(1) The Senior Steps, which may be kept by them only as long as they protect that sacred passage with all their heart, and all their body, and all their soul.

(2) The Senior Seats and the honor of entering chapel after all others have been seated and leaving the auditorium to the tempo of "Jake's" music before the under-classmen leave.

(3) The Dignity of Seniors, to which they will quickly adapt themselves.

(4) The Leadership of W. H. S., which, they will soon discover, the school cannot do without.

(5) The Senior Privileges, which they will find very inadequate, but due to no fault of our own.

ITEM II. We give to next year's Junior Class (the Senior Class of 1949) the honor of planning, decorating, and executing the Junior-Senior Banquet.

ITEM III. We leave the hope of being able to spend their senior year in the new school building to the Sophomores of 1947-48.

ITEM IV. The satisfaction of being a full-fledged high school student is left to each member of the incoming Freshman Class.

ITEM V. To the teachers, we bequeath our deepest gratitude for their kindness, patience, and aid.

ITEM VI. Our congratulations go to Mr. West and Mr. Kornegay for completing their first year as Superintendent and Principal, respectively.

ITEM VII. Those personal belongings of the individual class members which will be of no further use to them upon graduation are left to our successors as follows:

(1) Richard Robertson does hereby leave his mathematical mind to be evenly distributed among the Trig students of next year.

(2) To John C. Tayloe, Dewey Taylor leaves his "easy to get along with" nature.

(3) Mervin Cherry leaves his well trained pompadour to Lee Cooper.

(4) To Billy Cox is left the "John B. Edwards way with the younger women.

(5) To brighten the "gray days" ahead, the cheerful smiles of Genet Everette and Pearl Gerard are left to Lane Roberson and Wilma Woolard.

(6) Buster Taylor leaves (and we know with regret) his plaid coat to the boiler room, so none of the oncoming Seniors will be obliged to wear it.

(7) To Hallet Ward, "Tex" Galloway leaves his love for baseball.

(8) Jerry Woolard and Guy Stowe leave their good-looks to Sue Sanderson and Lindsay Everette.

(9) To W. T. Hough is left Isabel Carter's knowledge of Spanish.

(10) The friendliness of Anne Marslender is left to Sue Poore.

(11) Isabelle Perkins and Hope Hodges leave their positions as co-captains of the girls' basketball team to two equally deserving Juniors.

(12) Shirley Williams and Marian Jackson leave their true and everlasting friendship to Opal Roberson and Mary F. Elsen.

(13) To Alvin Peele, Claude Rouse leaves his chosen place in the stag line.

(14) Mary Anne Campbell leaves her ability to get things done to Sally Oden.

(15) To Jimme Hill is left the athletic ability of Al Phelps.

(16) Anne Rhodes and "Goon" Tetterton do bequeath their flirtatious ways to Mary Louise Byram and Shep Grist.

(17) To Billy Waters, Marshall Leggett leaves his fancy ping pong tactics.

(18) The blonde locks of Joyce Currin are left to Shirley Cherry and Elizabeth Wilkinson.

(19) Our veterans, Roger Hudson, Duncan Moore, Paul Sparrow, Billy Hampton, Garland Hodges, Bill Nelson, Harold Robinson, John Morton, Robert Rodgers and Julian Trueblood, leave their Coco-Colas to the thirsty seniors of next year.

(21) To Billie Jean Gillikin is left the faithful hearts of Betty Cox and Dorothy Wilson.

(23) Rena Boney leaves her artistic talents (and other talents, too!) to Evelyn Fulk.

(24) The quietness of Dorothy Schueck, Esther Respess, Nancy Tripp, and Gladys Waters is left to Betsy Winfield, Pattie Cherry and Catherine Singleton.

(25) To Brad Morton, Eddie Toler leaves his bashfulness.

(26) The height and cheerleading ability of Jane Hawk is left to Dwan Swindell.

(27) Tillie Wallace and Janie Jefferson leave their tiny waists to be fought over by the Junior girls.

(28) The good disposition of Ramona Sawyer is left to Eva Abeyounis.

(29) Harold Williamson leaves his ancient position in the band to the oncoming clarinet players.

(30) To a hopeful Junior, Lil' Jack Woolard, Freddie Potts leaves his manly frame.

(31) Rae Rowe's "gift of gab" is left to Bobbie Hackney.

(32) To David Cecil is left Jimmy Larkin's appreciation of music.

(33) To the "office girls" of next year, Sarah Jackson and Frances Harris would like to leave their "aching backs" and their deepest blessings.

(34) The neatness of Evelyn and Esther Campbell is left to Ruth Cecil and Dot Scott.

(35) Ed Hodges and Amy Diamond leave their "art" of being lazy to Vide Caudell and Jane Kuglar.

(36) To Alice Cherry is left the "dreamy" eyes of Tommie Greene.

(37) Charles Moore leaves his well filled position of Student Council President to a deserving senior of next year.

(38) To Evelyn Davenport and Bach Sellers is left the dancing ability of Charlotte Stanley and Jehu Nicholls.

(39) Betsy Campbell and Frances McNeil leave their Friday night dates to any lucky seniors who can "get 'em."

(40) The "scatter-brain" of Joyce Currier is left to Anne Brooks Whyte.

(41) Edna Barnett and John Kirk leave their witty remarks to Tillie Ingalls and Danny Jackson.

(42) The handsome profile of Jack Sowers is left to Harry Creekmuir.

(43) Bud Willis, George Ball, Billy Austin, Robin Perkins, and Meredith Woolard leave their "bus driver" privileges to Ben Hodges.

(45) The Speed of "Lightning" McKeel is left to the Juniors who have things to do by a dead-line.

In testimony, we, the Class of 1947, have set our hand and seal to this our last will and testament on this the 31st day of May, in the year of our Lord, 1947.
